THE ELECTION

For the North West Council.

A member for the District of Lorne will be elected before the next issue of this paper. The election will be held on the 4th of next month, of which the public have had notice, as required by law. The several polling places have been set apart by the Returning Officer, Col. Sprunt, the deputy returning officers and clerks appointed, and the voters are notified to the election. We have no doubt as to the result. We feel sure Mr. Macdowall will be returned, as he has within himself everything to recommend and qualify him as a candidate for and member of the North West Council, being an estimated head and shoulders over his opponent in the contest. We would, however, advise you the electors the necessity of recording their votes. Without Mr. Macdowall's supporters voting, Mr. Porter will of course be their representative. Mr. Macdowall's committee should be at work and not leave a stone unturned until the last vote is polled. It is no disgrace to have Mr. Macdowall's majority as large as it can be made; on the contrary we consider it tantamount to a defeat if his majority not amount to at least four hundred. We understand thereabout some seven hundred voters in this district, and we cannot see that Mr. Porter can take one out of every five in a full vote. The only thing we fear is that Mr. Macdowall's friends are too confident, and will not think it necessary to go and record their votes. We can understand persons not wishing to lose time at this season of the year, still an election does not place nor have the privilege of exercising their franchise every day. A word to the committees. Get the voters out. Get them out early. We know that Mr. Porter's friends are endeavoring to get those favorable to Mr. Macdowall not to vote at all. We fit their efforts in the respect will not be successful. We should like to see a large vote polled as possible, and should understand how any one can be induced to remain at home, except through unavoidable circumstances. Those, if there are any, who would remain at home at the request of Dr. Porter and his friends, had better stand up like men and vote against Mr. Macdowall. It would be much more easily. Had the election taken place immediately after the last public meeting we doubt if Dr. Porter would have polled a dozen votes, and although we have heard of any change, yet we cannot but advise and recommend the committees to be up and doing and the electors to exercise their franchise which the law of the land gives them. We hope in our next issue to be in a position to congratulate Mr. Macdowall and his friends on their complete victory. Complete is made by the fact that we now give taken. Any one can vote now give taken. The following notice: "You do swear that you are a bona fide resident and householder within this polling division of this electoral district. That you are twenty-one years of age, that you are not an alien or an unfranchised Indian, and that you have resided in this electoral district for at least twelve months immediately preceding the date of the issue of the writ for this election." Parties should see that their names are placed upon the lists handed the en-en-en-en-en, which will be posted up in different parts of the district. Those whose names do not appear, however, can have their names placed upon the list handed the deputy returning officers when they apply to have their vote taken. The only other card which is administered is the ballot only. Note of Mr. Macdowall's friends: "You do swear that you are a bona fide resident and householder within this polling division of this electoral district. That you are twenty-one years of age, that you are not an alien or an unfranchised Indian, and that you have resided in this electoral district for at least twelve months immediately preceding the date of the issue of the writ for this election." THE PRINCE ALBERT TIMES

WEDNESDAY, MAY 30, 1883

SCANDAL.

The Canada Presbyterian knows whereof it writes when it says:— "There is a depraved appetite for scandal. It pays to print the stuff. Swift-footed village gossip, more than half a lie, and the more false it is, will call at every house in a day. In the city, the newspaper, supplies the lovers of slanderous reports, if the editor is mercenary or mean enough to print such items. Like death, 'slander loves a shining mark.' The better the man, the more honorable and useful his career, the higher his position, the more attractive the scandal relating to him. The more one-sided and unfair the slanderous assault, the more it is relished. The market for such ware is large, active and constant."

SETTLERS' WOOD ALLOTMENTS.

Since learning that the Government have given the South Saskatchewan Valley Railway Company three townships on the north bank of the North Saskatchewan directly opposite Prince Albert, the farmers begin to wonder where and when their allotments of wood are to be assigned to them. They have for some time been expecting that these townships would be surveyed and allotted to them, but now think that they will have to go back not less than six miles. As there is only a very small quantity of timber on the prairie between the two rivers the question of the wood allotment is a serious one to the settlers and one which they are naturally a good deal agitated about, and would like to have it attended to before the next railway company have been able to secure their grant from the Government, otherwise the farmers may have to purchase a timber limit somewhere to secure themselves.

AGRICULTURAL SOCIETY.

As the District becomes more settled, it will become absolutely necessary for farmers and others to encourage by some means the importation of a better class of stock than that which prevails here at the present time. Not only is an improvement desirable in the classes at present found here but the introduction, for such it may be called, of sheep is a necessity which should be attended to at once. In connection with these the question of the adaptability of the country for cheese-making, the importation of seed, implements, etc., the gathering and sending east of samples of produce to be placed on exhibition there, and other kindred subjects all demand the attention of the agricultural community. In no way could this be more conveniently discussed than through the medium of an agricultural society, at whose meetings such topics could be discussed. An exhibition could be held each year at which premiums could be offered and where intending purchasers would have an opportunity to examine live stock, implements or other articles before purchasing. Will not some wide-awake farmer make a movement in this direction. We feel assured that his efforts would be heartily assisted by his neighbors.

DIVORCE COURT WANTED.

The principal being admitted, as it is, in this country that divorces should be granted when infidelity to the marriage vows can be shown, it is high time that the legal machinery was provided for the dissolution of the marital ties. The trial of these cases by the Senate is nothing short of a huge burlesque, condemned by the most eminent legal authorities in the land. A perusal of the proceedings of the case at present in progress at Ottawa would convince anyone, not blinded by prejudice, of the necessity which exists for a properly constituted tribunal where immunity can be obtained from a yoke which may have proved unbearable to one or both of the litigants. Easy going, pompous senators are scarcely the proper parties to adjudicate upon such questions. Then, again, there is the matter of expense. There are very few people possessed of the necessary means to carry a divorce case through the Senate, however just their plea may be. But even after spending several thousands in paying witnesses, etc., and having gained their point in the Senate, it is not at all certain that the bill will pass the House of Commons—a section of our people being opposed to divorces upon principle. It is, therefore, patent to everybody that it is impossible for a poor man or woman to obtain relief under the existing state of affairs, however righteous the grounds may be upon which the appeal is made. While we would not desire to see the looseness of American Courts and the easy facility with which divorces are granted among our cousins across the borders introduced into this country, a simpler and less expensive mode of procedure which would leave a way of escape from ill-assorted and unhappy unions, open to the poor as well as the rich is clearly demanded in the interests of society.

THE TROY FIRE.

A $300,000 Blaze.

Last week a number of the merchants here and others were startled by the rumor that the greater part of Troy had been reduced to ashes. Unfortunately the rumor has proved to be too true. Troy is the point from whence all goods by rail are shipped to Prince Albert and other points further on. A great number of our merchants and business men had goods in the different warehouses awaiting freighters, the majority of which was destroyed. Fortunately for some of them their goods had been removed to other storerooms a day or two before the catastrophe. The business portions of Troy lost heavily. The following are among the principal losses there: Caswell, $15,000; Gould, $20,000; Patterson, $1,000, greater portion saved; Lamb & Dickson, $11,000; Pioneer Hotel, $2,000; Qu'Appelle Land Company's office; Lovell's billiard parlor, tables saved; Harris' implement and machinery hall and contents, $6,000; Boulton's flour, feed and seed store, $7,000; Emigrant shed, $15,000; station-telegraph office and freight sheds, containing about $20,000 worth of goods for different points north and west; Brittlebank's lumber yard, $2,000 and about $500 worth of oats. Prince Albert losses are: Shannon & McLeod, 200 lbs boots and shoes, lot of sole leather and machine; J. L. Johnson & Co., about 5,000 lbs hardware; J. M. Campbell about $2,500 worth of general goods; J. Sinclair one case; J. C. McKennie, boots and shoes, $2,000; T. D. Davis, about 2,000 lbs of general goods; Walters & Baker, 18,000 lbs general goods; Mr. Brown, who is about opening out a general store here, loses about $3,000 worth of goods; Mr. Gordon, blacksmith, lost about 1,300 lbs of iron; W. J. Carter, builder, a moulder and stickler and other machinery; Goodfellow Bros., a small quantity of machinery; the Times office two cases of paper and stationery. The explosion of some gunpowder stored in the freight shed was the cause of the fire spreading to the emigrant sheds and other buildings. The C. P. R. had a full water tank, but no hose. A bucket line of 200 men was formed, which was the means of saving the remainder of the town. Cause of fire unknown.

Markley & Orr, real estate agents etc., will open up their business on the 1st of June, in the building next door to Col. Syme's.

The steamer Manitoba has gone up the river.

Mr. Horace Hard has gone out to his brother's claim in the Carrot River district. He intends doing a large amount of breaking this summer.

Mr. Heard, lately of the firm of Miller & Head, has gone to Kimsistim, where he intends to open out a general store.

PRINCE ALBERT, the trade centre of the Great North West, is situated on the south bank of the North Saskatchewan River, about thirty miles above its junction with the south branch of that great stream. Within the last three years the peninsula thus formed has been more or less thickly settled for a hundred miles from its point, and now comprises a population of about 6,000 souls, exclusive of Indians.

Originally a Mission establishment of the Presbyterian Church, and the germ of the Settlement. Prince Albert proper, has grown into a busy, well-defined and substantially built town of about 2,000 inhabitants. A marked feature of the place is its entire freedom from the well understood "Far West" characteristics of frontier towns generally; everything is well-governed and orderly.

Imaginary buildings on maps have no place here, and neither are the principal buildings made of canvas. The leading structures are of brick, stone and wood, and the permanence of Eastern Towns forcibly suggested. Our places of business, including mills, etc., will not suffer by comparison with those of Western Ontario. The different branches of trade correspond with those of any respectable town of the West, and may be particularized as follows:—

Two large steam grist mills, with a grinding capacity of 30,000 lbs. per day; two steam-saw and shingle mills with a cutting capacity of 30,000 feet of lumber per day; one large steam planing mill and sash and door factory; thirteen general stores, wholesale and retail; two furniture stores; two boot and shoe stores; eight boarding houses; two tailoring establishments; two millinery and dress making establishments; one harness shop; three hardware stores; two banking houses; two jewellers' shops; one drug shop; two bakeries; three livery stables, etc.; which together did business last year to the amount of three-fourths of a million of dollars. Building material can be had cheaply, the best quality of brick is made at the town, and lime stone is abundant near by.

The Church of England has several missions throughout the Settlement, and a Church, College and School at the west end of the town, all governed and regulated by a resident Bishop. The Presbyterians also have a fine church and school, and several missions in the outlying districts, and the Methodist and Roman Catholic Churches are well represented.

Prince Albert has always been regarded as the half-way point of the great wheat raising belt of the North West. From Lake of the Woods northwesterly it is about half way to the Rocky Mountains; it is also midway up the great Saskatchewan and finally it is on the ever green fringe of timber which marks the boundary between the great fertile plains of the east, south and south west, and the unbroken forest which stretches over hundreds of miles to the northern limit of the Pine. The old time difficulties in the way of reaching Prince Albert are quickly disappearing, a line of first-class passenger steamers make weekly trips to Carleton, Battleford and Edmonton on the West, and Grand Rapids, Selkirk and Winnipeg on the east end of the line. By stage coach and train Winnipeg is reached over land also in a week. And meanwhile this is the objective point of the Portage, Westbourne and North-western Railway which is under agreement to give its train connection with Winnipeg in eighteen months. The South Saskatchewan Valley Railway also is to be begun at once by starting 500 men to work here and double as many more at Qu'Appelle. This road is only 200 miles long and taps the main line of the Canadian Pacific at Troy, it will thus be pushed rapidly forward from both ends, and its early completion insured.

The soil round about Prince Albert and common to a vast area of country whose limits are not known is a rich sandy loam splendidly adapted to the raising of wheat and other cereals grown in the Western States, and it is safe to say that as crops are from year to year so abundant and so satisfactory in quality, the acreage doubled under cultivation is well high placed each succeeding year.

So many natural advantages uniting as they do at Prince Albert, experience has shown, unmistakably have but one result: a Chicago, a Minneapolis, a Winnipeg; and as the relative distance is maintained, our great city of the near future on the banks of the Saskatchewan.

Practically we are at the forks of a great river, which drains an extent of country equal if not greater than that drained by the Mississippi, at the northwestern limit of the plains and at the lower edge of an inexhaustible forest reaching to the arctic limit of the woods.

Already the growth of the Settlement is wonderful, and thus early in its history one re-enjoys the comforts blessings and security of the Eastern homes left behind. As we are 500 miles from Winnipeg the business done here is very large. There is a growing demand from the farther West for supplies of all kinds and if the future may be judged by the past, Prince Albert will be to the Great Peace River Valley in process of settlement what Winnipeg was and still is to the Valley of the Saskatchewan, THE BASE OF SUPPLIES.

Railway connection with the east, the centre of the Saskatchewan at this point will make it the distributing centre of a country half the size of Europe, and when the Hudson's Straits route across the Atlantic is an accomplished fact who can say what possibilities may not be opened up.

Capitalists, Farmers, Mechanics and men generally whose minds are practical cannot fail to readily understand that the advantages offered them here stand alone unrivalled in the world.

A few of the natural causes which operate to make Prince Albert and surrounding country a desirable field for agriculturists and capitalists may be briefly summed up as follows:—Situated on the banks of a mighty river draining a country greater in extent than that drained by the Mississippi, and navigable through a thousand miles of its course, unlimited supplies of wood and coal, and the boundless and fertile prairie stretching away to the east, south and west, and awaiting but the advent of the husbandman to cause it to smile with fields of waving grain. The past growth and present prosperity of the town, notwithstanding the adverse influences with which its citizens have had to contend augurs well for its future advancement, and it requires no seer to prophesy that it will continue to advance with giant strides until it takes its place as one of the great cities of the West.

QUEEN'S BIRTHDAY*Celebration in the North West*

Thursday last being the sixty-fifth anniversary of Her Majesty's birthday, the residents of Prince Albert and the neighboring country turned out in large numbers for the purpose of celebrating the event as well as for a day's enjoyment and recreation. Nearly all the places of business were closed for the day, and every one seemed determined to enjoy themselves to the best of their ability. A committee had been appointed to form a programme of sports and amusements, and by 10 a.m. these gentlemen had everything in readiness and a start was made. The first item on the programme was the

STANDING LONG JUMP.

For this contest there were five entries, and the competition was very close. Geo. Wright took first place with 10ft. 5in.; A. Hudson, 2nd, 10ft. 3in.; H. Porter, 3rd, 10ft. 3in.

THREE STANDING JUMPS.

For this there were four competitors entered, R. Middleton taking 1st prize with 31ft. 11in.; D. Peterson, 2nd, with 31ft. 6in.

RUNNING HOP, STEP AND JUMP.

Nine competitors entered, and the contest was very keen. D. Peterson, 1st, 38ft. 10in.; James Mair, 2nd, 38ft. 3in.

RUNNING HIGH JUMP.

There were only three entries for this, D. Peterson winning and easily clearing 5ft.; A. Hudson, 2nd, 4ft. 11.

PUTTING THE STONE.

This was the tamest affair of the day. Two entries. R. Middleton, 1st, 28ft. 9in. S. McLeod, 2nd, 28ft.

VAULTING WITH POLE.

Three entries were made for the pole vaulting, which was not quite as good as we would wish to have seen it. A. Hudson, 1st, 7ft. 10in.; A. Morrison, 2nd, 7ft. 5in.

100 YARD RACE.

Four competitors took the scratch for this trial of speed, which had been looked forward to with much interest, owing to the well known swiftness of some of the contestants. This was the only sport of the day in which there was any hitch, a foul start being claimed, but not allowed. The first place was awarded to D. Peterson, G. Wright second.

THREE-LEGGED RACE.

This was a very amusing race, and was won by Morrison and McKay, Linklater and Nelson coming in second.

220 YARD RACE.

For this race there were three entries. The first place was taken easily by S. McLeod; A. Morrison, 2nd.

MILE RACE.

There was not much excitement over this race, it being a straightaway track and not so easily viewed as the others. The first place was taken by G. McKay, and the second by A. Linklater.

SMOKING RACE.

The wind being pretty strong, the contestants in this race experienced considerable difficulty in "getting up smoke," but after considerable scratching, succeeded in getting away pretty well together, J. Linklater securing first prize F. Stanley second.

BOYS' RACE.

The boys' race, 100 yards, best two in three, was the most amusing one of the day. In the first heat there was but four started, whilst in the other two there was upwards of a dozen, fresh muscle being introduced each time. The judges had a lively time keeping track of the kids, but finally decided in favor of G. Sutherland for first and Johnnie Black second places.

THROWING BASK BALL.

The bask ball throwing was rather poor, and considerably short of last year's performance. T. Pool, 98 yards, 1st, and R. Rogers, 97 yards, 2nd prize.

Next on the programme came the horse and pony races.

RUNNING RACE.

There were five entries for this race—mile heats, best two in three. This was a very fine race. A good deal of interest was centred in it, as the winner, although certain of the first heat, was thought not to be entirely depended on for the other two. However, to the disappointment of not a few, J. B. General, being well handled and rode, came to the front in good shape in the two first heats, winning first money, $40. Kennedy's Puss taking second place and money, $25.

THROTTING RACE.

The trotting race, mile heats, best two in three, was a very interesting one, and was very hotly contested. Two heats were trotted. There were three entries, Scott's Shaggy Ben, Dismouth's Maid S., and Porter's Shaggy Jim. Shaggy Ben took first place in both heats, winning the race and $50. Maid S. making a close second and winning $25.

THE PONY RACE.

This was the most amusing and exciting of the horse races, judging from the manner in which some of the owners of the ponies rushed around. It was a very close run between the winners, the big horse taking the first heat, the second a dead heat, the third taken by the pony, and the big horse being withdrawn for the fourth heat, left Dismouth's Little Chief winner of first money; Anderson's Saundrie, second.

Messrs. H. J. Montgomery and F. W. Baker were the judges, and, as the Irishman said, gave the best of fair play. The committee deserve the thanks of all for the efficient manner in which they conducted the sports throughout the day.
